-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Art Unit: 2666

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 9-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ferguson et al. (6,454,708) .

For claims 9-11, Ferguson et al. disclose a portable remote patient telemonitoring system comprising:

a plurality of asynchronous telemetric streams (see column 11 line 55); a nexus coupled to the plurality of asynchronous telemetric streams(see column 11 line 55 and column 28 lines 56-59); and a processor (see box 68 in figure 5A) associated with the nexus, the processor being configured to implement a historic learning methodology for assigning priorities to events received at the nexus the streams (see box 136 in figure 11B);
a nexus for receiving a plurality of events generated by a corresponding plurality of asynchronous telemetric streams(see column 5 lines 6-21), and means for assigning priority to the received events based upon a historic learning analysis (see column 21 line 52-55); a plurality of agent applications for monitoring selected parameters descriptive of a functionality of the communications network, each such agent generating an independent data stream and delivering the generated stream to a common nexus, and a processor associated with the common nexus, the processor being configured to execute a historic learning algorithm to assign priorities to event datum received from the data streams generated by the agents (see column 11 line 55; column 5 lines 6-21, box 136 in figure 11B and box 68 in figure 5A).

2. Claims 1-8 are allowed.

3. Claim 12 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Kumar et al. (6,416,471) is cited to show a system which is considered pertinent to the claimed invention.

5. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to DANG T TON whose telephone number is 571-272-3171. The examiner can normally be reached on MON-WED, 5:30 AM-6:00 PM and Thur 5:30-9:30 A.M.
